SERVE 180 DAYS

"It is difficult for people to pro-tect themselves against a thief if he is in their house, and your appear-ance was such as to gain for you ad-mittance into the home of Mrs. Good," said Judea Murnby to C. R. Mitchell said Judge Murphy to C. B. Mitchell in passing sentence upon him for petit larceny. "You are a young man of more than ordinary intelligence, and ought to be able to make a respectable living in any community. It appears, though, that you have no disposition to make a beneat living in the second constitution to make a period to the second that the second disposition to make an honest liv-ing. It looks as though you want to be a thief and nothing more. The sentence of the court is that you pay a fine of $180, or, in lieu thereof, serve 180 days in the county jail. This will give you time to reflect, and, perchance, change your ways. When you get out of jail it would be well for you to start life anew, and make something of yourself. Instead of entertaining the idea that you should make a living stealing other people's property, go to work and make an honest living."

Friday yours Mitchell pleaded

Friday young Mitchell pleaded gality to the charge of petit larceny, the complaint in the case alleging that on July 2 ne stole $22 worth of jewelry from the trunk of Mr. and Mrs. David Crockett. Mitchell's older brother was implicated in the theft, as shown in the testimony given in his hearing for grand larceny, the two boys seemingly making the loot-ing of places to which they gain inress a business.

The young fellow has been in jail for about a month, pending the action of the court, but the court was not inclined to extend mercy in any de

BROTHER BOUND OVER.

Further testimony in the prelimhary hearing of Earl B. Mitchell, charged with grand larceny, was taken in the municipal court yester-day relative to the value of the property alleged to have been stolen, and as to whether it was taken from one or more trunks.

Mr. and Mrs. David Crockett stated that the goods in court which they previously identified as theirs, and which were found in the posses Flon of the defendant in Seattle, were stored in one trunk, and that the box spoken of in connection with the trunk contained nothing but books and pictures.

The attorney for the defense contended that the value of the property stolen had not been proved to be worth $50, consequently the young man should not be held to answer the charge of grand larceny before the district court. The court, how-ever, took a different view and or-dered that Mitchell be held to await the action of the district court. His lond was fixed at $500.

petus to growth by the rain of Friday night and fruit growers and farmers welcomed every drop of the downpour and did not mind the blinding flares of lightning nor the ear-splitting peals of thunder that accompanied

The Pioneer Fruit company, which is now loading pears for shipment at Provo, is expecting that the rain will do much good to the ripening fruit in Weber county. Fruit in the vicinity of Provo, Logan and Pleasantville seems to lead in the ripening, and the first shipments of the state are being made from these points. The Pioneer company will not start its most active shipping campaign until about the 20th of the month, but from now on will be busy in a small way with pear shipments and some early handling of other large fruits.

Tomatoes will also be greatly benefited by the rain, especially on the higher grounds, where the fruit has felt the summer drought with more severity. Many of the canneries have already started operations, but the A. L. Brewer plants, which were to open Thursday, will not be running until Tuesday or Wednesday. The delay in starting was due to a lack of ripe fruit Tomatoes are now ripening rapidly, and Mr. Brewer anticipates no further delay in the opening of the campaign. The rain just at this time is especially beneficial to the tomato crop, as water for irrigation is in many cases becoming very bard to ob-

The rain was most severe to the south and west of Ogden. In Ogden anyon, east of the Hermitage, very litle rain fell, while in some parts of the county west of Ogden the downpour amounted to a veritable deluge

DEFENDANTS ARE MADE IMPATIENT

There were no prisoners on the courners' bench in the criminal division of the municipal court yes The cases called were a local nature and were disposed of n short order.

The case of the city against Jennie and Jane Richards was called again, but, for the second time, the complainant, A. E. Beller, was not in court. Judge Murphy stated that, insmuch as the city attorney was not present, the case would not be diswould be given another chance to ap-pear and testify. The defendants were impatient, stating that they had twice appeared for trial, and each time their cases had been continued on account of the failure of the city's vitnesses to appear.

MIAMI COPPER TO INCREASE THE STOCK

The Miami Copper company contemplates new financing through an issue of additional capital stock, the exact amount of which has not been determined. From the proceeds of the new stock the company will avail itself of additional working capital at a time when production will commence-early in 1911. At the first of the current year Miami had cash exceeding $400,000, and still has a substantial treasury pany secured new funds through an is-90 per cent being paid January 10 last. Since that time a number of the bonds have been converted into stock.

The Miami Copper company will be the first of the new Globe-Arizona porphyries to become a producer. It has a large stock pile which at the beginning of the year was valued at $135,000. Now that underground development work has been curtailed and all efforts concentrated on the construc-tion of the new milling plant, Miami will start production with an available ore tonnage estimated at 15,000, 000 tons. This compares with 70,000, 000 tons at the Ray Consolidated. Among its stockholders are many foreigners, and inquiries for large blocks of the stock from Europe continue around prevailing prices.

Fifty-Three Officers Refuse to Obey Orders-Attempts Made to Blow Up Car Barns.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 13.-A total of fifty-three members of the Columbus police department have re-belled against Mayor Marshall's or-ders to ride on street cars. Unlike the regular officers who mutipled last evening, the 20 specials who rebelled tonight were not suspended, but on their refusal to board cars were told that by that act they had removed themselves from the service. Last nights mutineers were all suspended today. They will appeal to Director McCune who will dismiss all as Mayor Marshall says that none of them shall connected with the department while he is executive.

Mayor Marshall today called for 2,000 volunteers for police duty. He took the brunt of all criticism but said that if his critics were sincere they would offer to perform police duty. None responded

Two attempts are thought to have been made late tonight to blow up the Westside car barns. A large number of police were sent to the scene. The explosion were on the inside of the
